

Table of Contents

Preface

Introduction

PART I – Trade and Growth

Section 1.1 – Theory

- 1.1.1 – Production and Technique
- 1.1.2 – Capitalistic Production
- 1.1.3 – Foreign Trade (I)
- 1.1.4 – Employment
- 1.1.5 – Non-labor Resources
- 1.1.6 – Technique (II)
- 1.1.7 – The Rate of Profit
- 1.1.8 – Labor and Technique
- 1.1.9 – Inducement to Reinvest
- 1.1.10 – Commercial Capital
- 1.1.11 – Infrastructure
- 1.1.12 – Industrial Complexes
- 1.1.13 – Foreign Trade (II)
- 1.1.14 – Summary

Section 1.2 – The Roots of the Exchange-Paradigm in Economics

- 1.2.1 – Two Canons of Economic Thought
- 1.2.2 – Comparative Advantage and National Economy
- 1.2.3 – The Exchange-Paradigm

PART II – Labor and Land

Section 2.1 – Theory

- 2.1.1 – Value
- 2.1.2 – Surplus-Value
- 2.1.3 – Capital
- 2.1.4 – Value in the Economy
- 2.1.5 – The Law of Value
- 2.1.6 – The Meaning of Value
- 2.1.7 – Employment, Wages and Income-Distribution
- 2.1.8 – Land
- 2.1.9 – Rent
- 2.1.10 – Land Usage
- 2.1.11 – Economic Rent
- 2.1.12 – Summary

Section 2.2 – The Virtual World Replaces the Physical World

- 2.2.1 – Quesnay, Smith and Ricardo
- 2.2.2 – Marx and the Austrians
- 2.2.3 – Henry George and the Neoclassicals
- 2.2.4 – Value in Context

PART III – Money and Credit

Section 3.1 – Theory

- 3.1.1 – The Function of Money
- 3.1.2 – The Monetary System
- 3.1.3 – Further Properties of Banking
- 3.1.4 – The (Non-)Neutrality of Money
- 3.1.5 – Monetary Requirements of Capitalistic Economic Growth
- 3.1.6 – Deflation
- 3.1.7 – Disinflation
- 3.1.8 – Central Banking
- 3.1.9 – Money-Endogeneity and Inflation
- 3.1.10 – Demand-Pull and Cost-Push Inflation
- 3.1.11 – On the Quantity Theory of Money
- 3.1.12 – Monetary Trends and Monetary Authority
- 3.1.13 – ‘Full-Reserve Banking’ or Sovereign Money
- 3.1.14 – Banks and Seigniorage
- 3.1.15 – Banks and Bubbles
- 3.1.16 – Banks, Fragility, and Privilege
- 3.1.17 – Sovereign Money and Monetary Authority
- 3.1.18 – Summary

Section 3.2 – The Struggle for Restoration: Money against Banking in American History

- 3.2.1 – Prefatory Points on English Banking
- 3.2.2 – The Jeffersonian Era
 - a. Two Visions in Conflict*
 - b. The Hamiltonian Presidencies*
 - c. The Jefferson Presidency*
- 3.2.3 – The Jacksonian Era
 - a. The Setting for Struggle*
 - b. Bank War pt. 1: The Jackson Presidency*
 - c. Bank War pt. 2: The Van Buren Presidency*
 - d. Epilogue to the Bank War*
- 3.2.4 – The Greenback Era (The First Greenback Revolt)
 - a. Introduction*

- b. War Finance in 1861-62*
- c. The National Banking Act*
- d. War Finance in 1863-64*
- e. Peace, Contraction and Debt*
- f. Democrats and Greenbacks in the Election of 1868*
- g. John Sherman, Money and the National Debt pt. I*
- h. The Coinage Act of 1873, or 'The Crime of '73'*
- i. Jay Cooke and the Crash of 1873*
- j. The Depression of 1873-79*
- k. The Greenback Movement: Leaders, Adversaries and Ideologies*
- l. John Sherman, Money and the National Debt pt. II*

3.2.5 – The Populist Era (The Second Greenback Revolt)

- a. The Farmers Alliance*
- b. Monetary Conditions in the 1880s-90s*
- c. Politico-economic Consolidation*
- d. The McKinley Tariff and the Sherman Silver Purchase Act*
- e. The Crisis of 1890-96*
- f. Tom Watson and the Alliance against Georgia Democracy*
- g. Alliance Populism against Silverite Democracy*

3.2.6 – Conclusion / The War on Agrarian Restoration in American Historiography

PART IV – International Trade and Finance

Section 4.1 – Theory

- 4.1.1 – Consumption, Savings and Investment
- 4.1.2 – The Financial Sector
- 4.1.3 – Financial Assets and Liquidity
- 4.1.4 – Risk and Balance-Sheet Construction
- 4.1.5 – World-Money (AKA 'Global Reserve Currency')
- 4.1.6 – The Balance of Payments (BOP) and Exchange-Rates
- 4.1.7 – Internal and External Positions
- 4.1.8 – Summary

Section 4.2 – History – The Eurodollar System and Dollar World Order

4.2.1 – The Genesis of the Eurodollar

- a. A postwar existential crisis for the City of London*
- b. The re-establishment of market norms for international financial flows*

4.2.2 – Political and Material Origins of Neoliberalism

- a. Declining profitability in the postwar economic miracles*
- b. Trilateralism and planning for international politico-economic stability*

4.2.3 – The Vacuum Winds of Change

- a. Inflation and inflation-fighters*

- b. The Volcker Shock*
- c. International Banks and the Latin Debt Crisis*
- d. Crisis at Home*

4.2.4 – Three Planks of World Order: Globalization, Financialization, and Dollarization

- a. Globalization*
- b. Financialization*
- c. Dollarization and the Eurodollar System's evolution into a Monetary System*

4.2.5 – Monetary Policy in the Era of Eurodollar Primacy

Conclusion

Acknowledgements

References

[Index still under development]